The 1947 INDEX Board envisioned a year of prediction and action at Massachusetts State College. Having found a suitable design with which to present the theme of the book, THE FUTURE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS AT AMHERST, we looked into our crystal ball and saw there very bright hopes for the future of our Alma Mater. We have tried to combine these mystical hopes with an accurate account of the memories, the fun, the beauty of our campus, and the activity at Massachusetts State College, common to the year 1946-1947. The editors and the staff of the 1947 INDEX present this yearbook, a permanent MEMORY to you the students of 1946-1947.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE COLLEGE
UNIVERSITY of the future

To

DR. HUGH P. BAKER

As the eleventh President of Massachusetts State College, Hugh Potter Baker will complete his all-too-short administration this Spring. But his solid achievements since he assumed his office in 1933 have been so helpful to the college that his place in the affections of faculty, students and alumni is secure.

The college was fortunate in securing a leader who had a background of successful experience as a Professor in two great colleges, as Executive Secretary of The American Paper and Pulp Association, and as Dean of the Forestry School at Syracuse University.

Convinced that the college had a great future, he formulated plans for strengthening its work and extending its influence. Never sparing himself, he labored zealously to secure public support for a more adequate physical plant, for a stronger and larger faculty, and a richer and more extensive educational program for the college he loved.

Nothing that would enhance the morale of the students and the staff lacked his support. He preached and practiced good housekeeping. The campus was made more beautiful. At least five new dormitories were secured. Administrative quarters were renovated; infirmary facilities were increased; a faculty club was organized with comfortable quarters in the renovated Stockbridge House, and Goodell Library was built. Recently he secured appropriations for new buildings to house Home Economics and the Physics Department.

Again the student body increased from 853 to 1553; and the faculty from 112 to 159. The curriculum has been enriched by the addition of new courses and the creation of several new departments. The influence of the college has been enhanced greatly.

To guide an educational institution through years of depression and war, courage and vision of a high order were needed. President Baker had these.

In dedicating their INDEX to him, the Class of 1947 pays tribute to a man whose devotion to the highest interests of Massachusetts State and her Sons always has been, and always will be, constant and unflinching.

The Associate Alumni of Massachusetts State College was organized more than 70 years ago with its purpose then, as now, the promotion of the welfare and best interests of Massachusetts State College. Through active cooperation of the entire alumni body the Association has been able to accomplish a great deal in behalf of Massachusetts State—Alumni Field, the Physical Education Building, Memorial Hall were all made possible through alumni initiative and interest.

Now, the Associate Alumni has set up a committee through which funds will be raised for a War Memorial—a tribute to the men of the College who gave their lives in World War II.

General Eisenhower Inspects Mass. State College War Memorial Plans During His Visit to Amherst This Past Summer

Another committee of the Associate Alumni has arranged for the construction of four fine dormitories on campus. Lewis Hall and Butterfield House were earlier built through work of this committee; and during the past college year Greenough and Chadbourne Halls—named for two former presidents of the College—have been built by the alumni committee. Students have already moved into Chadbourne Hall, and Greenough Hall will be ready for occupancy by summer.

The work of the Associate Alumni is managed by officers and directors elected annually by the alumni body. Ralph S. Stedman '20 of Springfield, is President; Dennis M. Crowley '29 of West Roxbury, is Vice-President, Clark L. Thayer '13 is Treasurer, and M. O. Lanphear '18 is Secretary. Chairman of the building committee is Alden C. Brett '12, former president of the Association and a Trustee of the College.

THE COLLEGE WAR MEMORIAL

Sketch of Proposed War Memorial by Professor James Robertson, Jr.

The projected War Memorial at the College is designed to be an extension of the facilities of the present Memorial Building which was erected through the generous contributions of Alumni following World War I. This building stands as a living tribute to the memory of those men who gave their lives in that war.

In making a contribution toward the fund for the Memorial which will honor the men of the College who died in both wars, Francis Slattery '41, who served during World War II with the U. S. Navy, wrote:—

"I am very happy to do my bit toward building the War Memorial. I believe all of us who were fortunate enough to survive the bloody mess have an obligation to those who did not — an obligation to keep constantly before our eyes, and the eyes of all, the reminder that this country, its institutions and way of life are a heritage passed on to future generations only because men such as those whose memories we honor were willing to give their 'last full measure of devotion'.

"The halls of the new Memorial should provide the College with much needed facilities for student social functions; but it is the Memorial Room in the tower which should provide the fitting reminder to Statesmen that the heritage we assume so freely is ours to hold in trust and guard and cherish if we would keep faith with the men of State who have gone before."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO THE CLASS OF 1947

GREETINGS:

Education is a dynamic process. There is no middle ground where one can stop and say "I am educated. I no longer need to learn." To cease learning is to decay and the whole history of civilization may be offered in evidence of that fact.

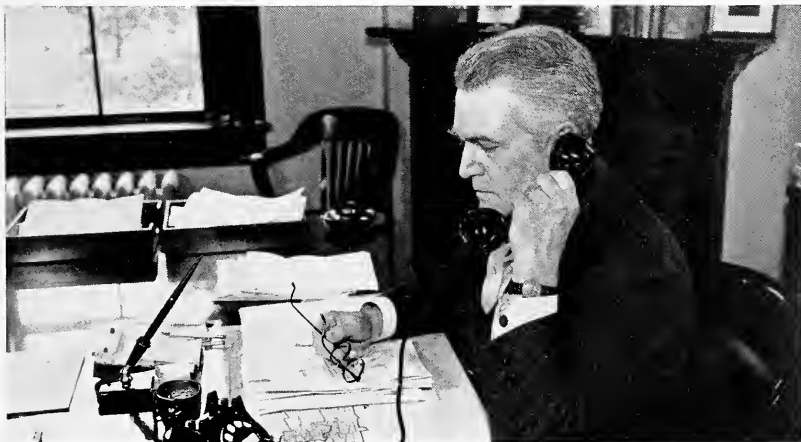

Today more than ever before does the fate of mankind hinge on his ability to learn. The free exchange of ideas, the free dissemination of knowledge among the people of the world is the one great hope of man. There must be no tariff on the intellect. On this basis and this basis alone rests the future of education and of organized society.

You of the graduating class may well take pride that by her actions and her deeds your alma mater lives up to this credo. Her history has been one of constant evolution. The scope of the curriculum has grown with the years. The physical plant, generally the last phase of the campus to respond to the spur of progress, is on the threshold of a new expansion. Above all the great current of intellectual maturity that is manifested by an unprecedented demand for collegiate training on the part the young people of the nation finds your college doing its part to direct its vast potential into useful and productive channels.

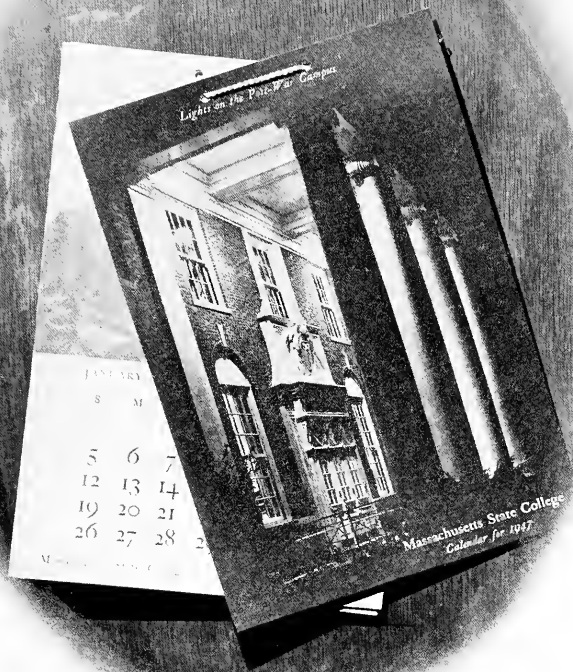

The physical properties of the college, that have come to be symbolic of a way of life, the elms, the pond, the curved college pathways, the shaded buildings, these are the rocks on which a new and greater university will be erected. We take leave of this campus, you and I, with memories of work and pleasure indistinguishable one from the other, confident that in this calm beauty the aspirations of our society will flourish for the general welfare of mankind.

Designed primarily as a memory, the 1947 INDEX has tried to fulfill its purpose of accurately recording another year of the life at our Alma Mater. From its birth last April to its distribution in May, the INDEX worked into its usual story of a year at State, a variable or theme—the dream of a future UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS AT AMHERST.

The Spring of '46—editor and business manager alike busy with interviews and conferences—then the decision to use the Sargent Studio, Greylock Engraving Company, and the Andover Press as official photographer, engraver, and printer. The Summer—designing a dummy on the sands of Swampscott—the unestimable help of Pat Ray of Sargent Studio. The Fall—returning to M.S.C. with the completed dummy; excited with the prospects of a pre-war sized book; elated over Prof. Dickinson's decision to let us go ahead with all plans even with prospects of not making ends meet.

The Editor—deciding on photographic designs, type, style, and use of the theme;—confering with "Prof.", checking with Mr. DuBois, and shipping copy constantly to the

This year brought the achievement of independence to the Quarterly, the undergraduate literary publication. A "Gardenia Ball," sponsored by the Quarterly, was held early in November, and funds received aided the publication considerably.

The aim of the Quarterly has been to bring forth and publish any writing of literary merit by undergraduates of the college, regardless of major field. This year the covers for the magazine were designed by student artists.

On the editorial staff of the Quarterly were Arnold Golub '47 (inactive), and Milton Bass '47, Editor; Hilda Sheinberg '47, Associate Editor; Patricia Clancy '48 and Jean Roberts '48, Assistant Editors; and Eugene Ratner '47, Business Manager. Due to first semester graduation of the editor, Hilda Sheinberg was elected editor for the second semester.

BAND

For the first time since the war, the Mass. State band became re-activated. Under Doric Alviani, the 36-man band composed of Statesmen, old and new, became one of the most active and versatile organizations on campus.

Marching to the music of the band, a drumming unit and a 44-girl drill team with twirlers enhanced the fall football season, and started a new and novel tradition at M.S.C.

Doric Alviani's "most exciting musical year since the war" saw presentations by the largest combined glee club range from the sublime Handel's "Messiah" to the nerve-wracking, door-opening Richard in the "Snowman's Frolic." The most ambitious program of the year was the production of the "Red Mill," which was the first Victor Herbert work ever offered here. Other events included a tour of The Massachusetts State College Men's Glee Club wouldn't be a State Glee Club at all without the traditionally popular Statesmen. This year Alex Campbell, Coolidge Wood, John Lawrence, and Henry Brahlit kept the popularity of the quartet in high gear by singing everything from spirituals to swing.

SONGS OF THE STATESMEN

SONS OF MASSACHUSETTS

(Alma Mater)

Bay State's loyal sons are we;
In her praise our song shall be,
Till we make the welkin ring,
With our chorus as we sing,
With the tribute that we bring,
Holyoke's hills prolong the strain,
Echoing to our glad refrain,
And the gentle winds proclaim
Far and near thy peerless fame,
Praising e'er thine honored name:
Ma-a-a-a-assachusetts!

Chorus:

Loyal sons of old Massachusetts,
Faithful, sturdy sons and true,
To our grand old Alma Mater,
Let our song resound anew.
Cheer, boys, cheer for old Massachusetts,
Give our college three times three;
Sons forever of the old Bay State,
Loyal sons, loyal sons are we.

WHEN TWILIGHT SHADOWS DEEPEN

When twilight shadows deepen
And the study hour draws nigh,
When shades of night are falling,
And the evening breezes sigh,
'Tis then we love to gather
'Neath the pale moon's silv'ry spell,
And lift our hearts and voices
In the songs we love so well.

Chorus:

Sons of old Massachusetts!
Devoted sons and true;
Bay State, my Bay State,
We'll give our best to you.
Thee, our Alma Mater,
We'll cherish for all time;
Should old acquaintance be forgot,
Massachusetts—yours and mine.

THE STATESMEN

The men of Massachusetts are a strong and sturdy race;
We'd rather be in college than in any other place.
For we've never heard of Wesleyan, of
Worcester Tech, or Amherst,
And, we wouldn't go there if we had Statesmen is the name we're known by,
From Provincetown to Williamstown we always make a hit.
Step right up and call us Statesmen, you won't embarrass us a bit.

Chorus:

For M-S-C is our refrain,
M-S-C we will cheer again, and once again.
Let's Go! For M—Rah—S—Rah—C is our refrain,
M—Rah—S—Rah—C, we will cheer again, again, and once again.

SONS OF THE VALLEY

Sons of the valley
Onward to glory
Comrades forever
Fighting together
For old Massachusetts.
Throw down the gauntlets
We'll forge her fame, men
Sounding her name, and then
We'll toast Alma Mater
Praising her ever
Bay State won't give in
(The) maroon and white will win!

Sons of the valley
Onward to glory
Comrades forever
Fighting together
We'll toast Alma Mater
Praising her ever
Glasses on high then (It's) Massachusetts again!

Roister Doisters

"The Skin of Our Teeth," the outstanding 1946 Roister Doister production, was a challenge to any of the traditional annual presentations of the Mass. State dramatic society. Produced at a spring performance, on High School Day, and at Commencement, it was cheered by campus audiences. Applause and praise followed it to Worcester and to the Holyoke War Memorial Building. Daphne Cullinan '46, Shirley Spring '46, William Clark '47, Joseph Bornstein '47, and Jacqueline Marien '48, under Professor Rand's able direction, were the leading contributors to the Roister Doisters' unprecedented success.

HANDBOOK

The Freshman Handbook, a publication of the Academic Activities Board, has taken the lead this year, as it has in past years, in presenting Massachusetts State College to the incoming Freshman Class. Not only has it served as a guide and college bible to the Class of 1950, but also it has remained one of the few stable factors upon which our entire student body and faculty have been able to depend for college information. Within its covers can be found data on every field from what time the piano may be played in dormitories to whom to consult about what, from the college calendar to Greek Letter Societies, from bus schedules to college customs.

A small and competent staff has worked quite diligently this year to produce a finer and more complete Handbook than Massachusetts State College has ever before seen. Guiding and advising the staff with intelligence and ability is Miss Leonta Horrigan; doing an excellent job as editor-in-chief this year is Mildred Kinghorn '49.

ACADEMIC ACTIVITIES BOARD

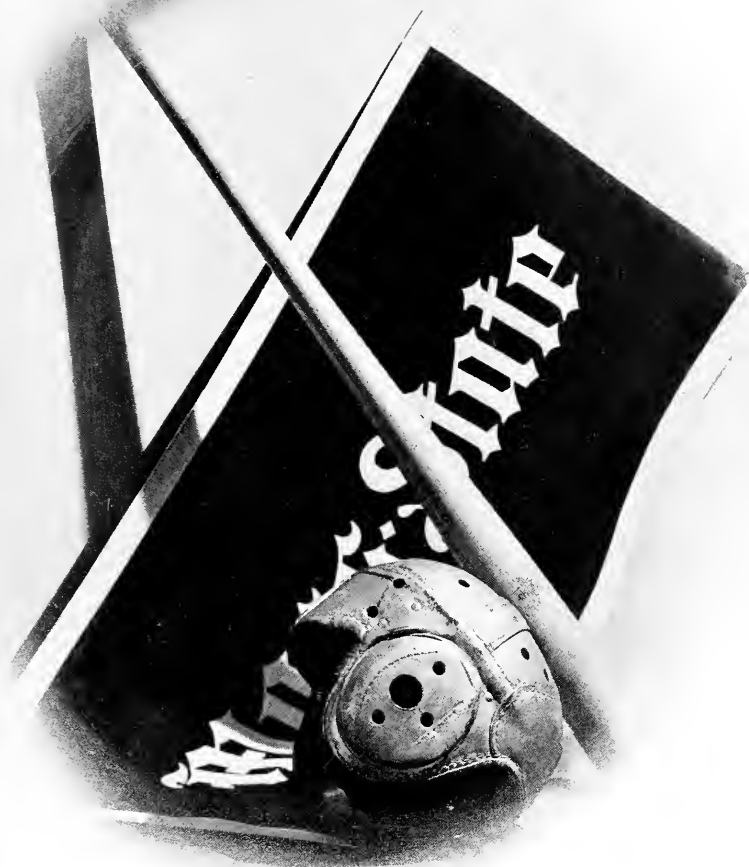

Whenever any question arose regarding finances for organizations under its jurisdiction, the Academic Activities Board was always present with helpful suggestions.

On commencement Sunday 1946, at a breakfast meeting for those interested in Academic Activities organizations, honorary gold medal awards were made to alumni for services along the lines for which academics stands. The three awards made were to Miss Skinner, for her outstanding work at this college, to David J. Malcolm, retiring trustee, for his column in the Sunday Springfield Republican, and to Capt. Carl R. Wildner '38, who participated in the Doolittle flight over Tokyo, for his interest in music.

Besides the usual medal awards, the annual Academic Activities awards were as follows: The Conspicuous Service Trophy of 1946 to Margaret O'Hagerty for representing the Girls' Glee Club, the $50 Business Manager's prize to Ruth E. Reynolds, Manager of the INDEX.

This year the Board consisted of Dean Machmer, Chairman, Profs. Rand, Dickinson, and Glick, and the following student business managers: INDEX, Theodora Melahouris '48; Collegian, Arthur Karas '47; Handbook, Jean Hinsley '48; Quarterly, Eugene Ratner '47; Roister Doisters, Florence Healy '48; Women's Glee Club, Barbara Cole '47; Men's Glee Club, John Cadorette '48; Band, Alvin Alkon '49.

Although the 1946-47 MSC sports picture was both shadowy and bright, it did contain an extraordinary number of outstanding events and men. Broken records almost broke out of the category of rarities into that of common occurrences, and the bestowing of new laurels became unusually frequent.

Topping the list of the outstanding was Louie Clough, cross-country and track star, who won every dual meet in cross-country and broke a course record. Then, in winter track he proceeded to better three records and tie one. Bob Ryan, a transfer from Ohio State, on the swimming team, attained the list of record-smashers by breaking the pool records for the 220 and 440 free style. Larry Briggs didn't smash any marks, but he merits a place on this list for being elected President of the National College Soccer Coaches Association. Other laudations go to the football team with a "best since 1932" 6-2 record and to the cross-country team with a 4-1 record.

The State football team broke into full post-bellum bloom last fall with Coach Hargeshheimer and a multitude of veterans returning from the battlefield to the gridiron wars. The season turned out to be the most successful since 1932 with the Maroon and White winning six battles and losing only two. With Dick Lee and Hal Fienman leading a fast back-field and Brooks Jakeman and Bud Estelle heading a hard-charging line, the Hargymen massed a total of 184 points through the season as against their combined opponents' compilation of 48 points.

The Statesmen got off to a losing start at Lewiston, Maine, by coming out on the short end of a 6-0 count with Bates. But they needed no excuses for losing to "Ducky" Pond's team, for the latter finished the season undefeated and was invited to participate in the Glass Bowl game at Toledo after the regular season.

The locals broke into the win column in their second game against Bowdoin. 11-8, in a game which featured three safeties. A safety by each team knotted the score at 2-2 early in the game, but Bowdoin scored on a Gillen-to-Dobie pass late in the first period to go ahead, 8-2. A blocked kick and recovery gave State another two points to make it 8-4 in the third stanza, then in the final quarter Hal Fienman on a 10-yard line buck concluded a 77-yard MSC push to pay dirt and then booted the conversion to give State the victory.

The next game against Worcester Tech was a runaway for the Hargymen, 39-0. Fran Keough led the scoring with a trio of touchdowns and others were scored by Bernie Stead, Marshall Gilman, and Hal Fienman.

The Maroon and White lost its second game of the season to a stubborn Rhode Island State aggregation, 14-6, even though it held a statistical edge on offense. Rhode Island scored twice in the initial quarter on an 87-yard march and a 72-yard pass play. A 79-yard drive concluded by a Fienman-to-Fran Keough aerial paid off for State in the third period.

A stronger-than-expected Norwich eleven held State scoreless for two periods, but the latter finally rang up a tally on a pass from Hal Fienman to end Hatch Hall in the third canto. In the concluding quarter Dick Lee hit the line for a t.d. to climax a 68-yard State drive. Bob Ryan kicked both points-after-touchdown and State won, 14-0.

The home team got a scare from the University of Vermont, but managed to squeeze out a 28-20 win in its next encounter. It looked like a cinch for State in the first half when it garnered three touchdowns on two spinner plays by Dick Lee and an interception by Charley L'Esperance followed by a lateral to Stan Waskiewicz. However, the visitors came back to score three quick tallies themselves in the second half and brought the score to 21-20. Then Dick Jenkins put the game on ice for State by running back the last Vermont kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown.

The next affair saw State running all over the City College of New York gridsters to win, 59-0. Dick Lee scored a trio of t.d.'s on runs of 28, 5, and 17 yards. Hal Fienman scored once on a 12-yard jaunt and passed to John Keough for another score, and Bob Ryan scored once on a spectacular 84-yard run. The other two tallies came as results of intercepted C.C.N.Y. passes by Charley L'Esperance and Bob Bulcock.

In the final game of the season, the Maroon and White completely outplayed the Tufts Jumbos to win, 27-0. Dick Lee and Hal Fienman sparked the locals once again, Lee scoring twice on 3- and 5-yard plunges and Fienman passing to Hatch Hall for a 27-yard touchdown. The other score came in the final period on an end run by Bob Ryan.

Coach Briggs and Captain Giannotti

A small and inexperienced State soccer team found little to make merry about this season, winning only one game and losing six. The green Briggs bunch had no scoring punch whatsoever, managing only five goals all season and being shut out in four of the six contests.

A mighty Dartmouth aggregation took MSC's measure in the first game to the tune of 5-0. The Maroon and White was white-washed two more times to scores of 3-0 and 4-0 by Williams and Rensselaer respectively before administering a whitewashing of its own to the University of Connecticut, 2-0, in the first home game. In the very next game, however, the Statesmen were back in their old rut, losing to Trinity, 2-0. In the most discouraging affair of all, the locals bowed to the Lord Jeffs of Amherst, 4-2, after entertaining a 2-0 advantage. The Tufts Jumbos came from behind in an exciting finale to whip the Briggsmen in overtime, 2-1.

Headed by Lou Clough and Alec Campbell, a consistent one-two punch throughout the season, Coach Llewelyn Derby's MSC harriers experienced their most successful season since 1934 with four wins and one defeat as a record. In addition they made the best showing of any State team in the New England Intercollegiate at Boston, finishing sixth with a 138-point total.

The Derbymen won three straight before succumbing to the strong MIT septet, 32-25. They had defeated in succession Northeastern, 27-29, Worcester Tech, 23-34, and Trinity, 18-45. And although the aforementioned Clough and Campbell finished one-two against MIT, five Techmen bunched into the next six positions to give State its first and only setback. The Statesmen received some salve for their wounds the next week when they were able to edge out rival Amherst, 26-29.

Lou Clough won every race by huge margins and Campbell was next in all save the WPI meet.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

Not too successful! Those three words just about sum up and describe the 1946-47 State basketball season. Winning only four games in sixteen, the MSC courtmen found little to rejoice about, although there was some consolation in the knowledge that they did show signs of improvement as the season wore on. But for a little bad luck which came their way in the middle of the season, they might have finished the season with two or three more victories to their credit. Just as their win column began to get a little populated, the Maroon and Whites lost the services of two of their best men, Stan Waskiewicz and Ed McGrath. McGrath returned to the court later, but Waskiewicz was forced to sit out the remainder of the season.

Although the season was comparatively dull on the whole, it was unique in the respect that the team changed horses, or rather coaches, in the middle of the stream. After seven games, Coach Walter Hargesheimer resigned as head mentor in favor of a position as assistant football coach at the University of Oklahoma. Lorin "Red" Ball, who presided over last year's hoop squad, was selected as his successor and did manage to get State finally into the victory circle.

As expected, practically the entire squad was composed of returned veterans. Coach Hargesheimer had a tremendous assorting job to do at the beginning of the season when over sixty candidates reported, but he eventually narrowed the pack down to two varsity quintets and two jayvee fives. Four of the five final first-stringers were returnees from last year's team—Fred Richardson, Hy Myers, Captain Ray Kneeland, and Joe Masterson. Ed McGrath filled out the first team.

If anyone deserved the title of spark-plug for the team, it was Captain Ray Kneeland. The former all-scholastic guard for Northampton High played almost every minute of every game and did a bang-up job in leading the team. An uncannily accurate set shot was his most potent weapon, and he used it to good advantage with amazingly consistent success. Ray also captained State back in 1942 before entering the service.

Getting back to the team as a whole, the first seven games of the season were merely repetitions of defeat for State. The initial game with Worcester Polytech furnished no cause for pessimism, since the locals displayed a fairly good brand of ball and lost by only four points, 59-55. However, the next contest against Trinity at Hartford was demoralizing. The whole team lacked coordination and even Ed McGrath, who was high scorer in the WPI game, could garner only two points. The final score turned out 56-39. Boston University, the third MSC opponent, brought further discouragement to the Hargymen by dealing them their soundest trouncing up to that time, 67-40, in their first home game. Stan Leighton, B.U. right forward who ended the season as high scorer for the Bostonians, was just too much for the Statesmen to take care of. The second home game saw a little improvement in the Maroon and White. A strong Springfield College aggregation, which later in the season defeated Boston University at Boston Garden, just managed to squeeze out a victory over the local five, 61-55.

Ray Kneeland, Captain, High-Scorer, and the Backbone of the State Basketball Team

But the University of Connecticut came next and with it more pessimism as the Nutmeggers eased their way to a resounding 73-37 triumph over State. At Clinton, New York, the State five came closer to its first win than it had in any previous encounter, but nevertheless lost a heartbreaker to a not-too-formidable Hamilton College quintet, 54-52.

One more defeat pervaded the Hargymen's record, that at the hands of the Tufts Jumbos, before they finally gained their first victory. Coach Hargesheimer left after the Tufts game, and with Red Ball's ascendancy to head coach's position, the MSC boys immediately began a four-game winning streak. The complete reversal of circumstance from a seven-game losing streak to a four-game winning string began with a 49-47 triumph over Clark University at Worcester. This was all the more surprising as Clark had won six of its first eight games and was considered as one of the better small New England college teams. Evidently the unimposing 0-7 State record had made the Worcester men overconfident. MSC's second win came at the expense of its brother annex at Fort Devens, whose team was three-fifths composed of men from last year's State squad. The Devens basketeers came up fast in the last few minutes of play in an attempt to catch State, but fell short by five points, the final count reading 49-44. The next contest with Hamilton spelled sweet revenge for the Maroon and White as it thrilled a Winter Carnival crowd by losing an early-gained lead and then regaining it to win by a score of 49-46. The second team showed its worth in this game by coming in to knot the count after the first team had fallen behind.

The Statesmen were to taste victory once more in gaining a revenge triumph over WPI, but after that game they descended into another losing streak which lasted to the end of the season. These last five setbacks were suffered against Williams, which had previously defeated West Point, Norwich, Vermont, previously-beaten Clark, and B.U.

WINTER TRACK

 Bower, Cohen, Campbell, Cossar, Clough, Funkhouser

As far as the whole team was concerned, the winter track season was definitely not a laudable one, the team losing three out of four dual meets and finishing last in a triangular meet. Yet the season was still one of the most outstanding in State track history, chiefly because of one Louie Clough. Besides leading the State relay team to victory in the B.A.A. meet in Boston Garden, winning five races, tying one, and losing one, Louie broke three college records and one cage record and tied one cage record in events ranging from the 440 to the mile run. Ed Pierce smashed a college record also in the two-mile by a full ten seconds.

After its relay team had finished third and first respectively in the K. of C. and B.A.A. meets in Boston, State won its first dual meet with Worcester Tech, 50-40, then lost successively to Amherst, 70-46, Springfield, 68-47, and Connecticut, 79-34. It also finished last in a triangular meet with Amherst and Holy Cross.

Coach Derby's 1946 spring tracksters had little to wax joyous about as they went down to defeat in all three of their dual meets, two of them crushing setbacks, the other of the slim-margined type. The main cause for State's misfortune on the cinders was a deficiency of manpower, particularly in field events. The fact that the point-scoring burden was carried for the most part by two or three men instead of being spread out among a majority of the team members also contributed. Lou Clough, Bill Howes, and George Bower in the running events and Dave Koenig in the field events carried most of the burden.

The scores by which MSC lost were: to Wesleyan, 96-39; to Trinity, 84-42; to Worcester Polytech, 66-59. Clough and Howes finished third in the mile and two-mile respectively at the Easterns.

This spring's schedule calls for meets with Amherst, Trinity, W.P.I., and Devens.

SWIMMING

Coach Joe Rogers' mermen ended their season even-stepped with a record of three wins and the same number of setbacks. It was not a good campaign for the Rogersmen in comparison to those of other years, but a justifiable excuse can be found in the fact that there was an unfortunate dearth of manpower.

A holdover from last season, Joe Chmura, and a transfer from Ohio State, Bill Ryan, were the sparkplugs on the team. Chmura took four firsts and two seconds in his diving specialty and included among his feats that of defeating last year's New England diving champ from Connecticut. Ryan broke two records established in 1937 in the 220 and 440 free style.

The Statesmen really went to town in their first meet, trouncing WPI, 50-25. They made it two in a row over Boston University, 41-34, then lost their first meet to mighty Williams, 56-19. Wesleyan and Connecticut set them down successively, then they edged out Tufts, 41-34; in the finale.

BASEBALL

Coach Fran Riel's State diamonders experienced a rather unfortunate season last spring, finishing up with a not-too-commendable record of four victories and seven setbacks. The main deficiency of the Maroon and White was in the hitting department, particularly in the early-season contests, of which they lost six of the first seven. As soon as they began giving the hurlers some support, they also began winning games.

The Statesmen won their first game, 1-0, at the expense of Wesleyan after having lost their first four games to Connecticut, Amherst, Boston University, and New Hampshire. The Rielmen lost two more after the Wesleyan game to Trinity and W.P.I., then defeated Westover and Norwich, were shut out by Tufts, and ended the season with a 6-5 win over Boston University.

W.A.A.

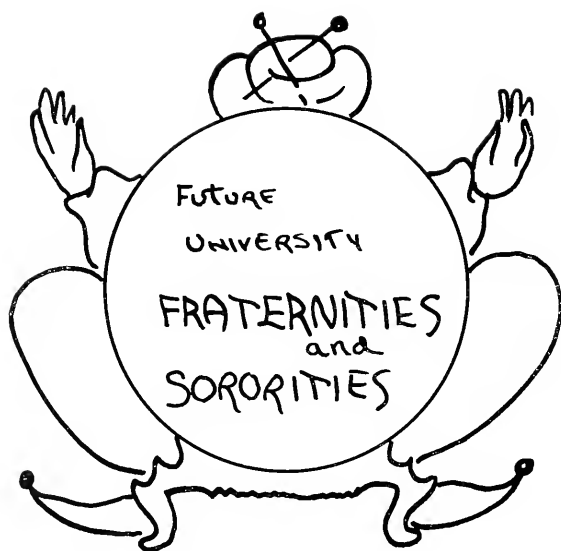

Hockey, archery, basketball, swimming, a few of the many sports sponsored by W.A.A., afforded the women students of the campus a year of sport activity.

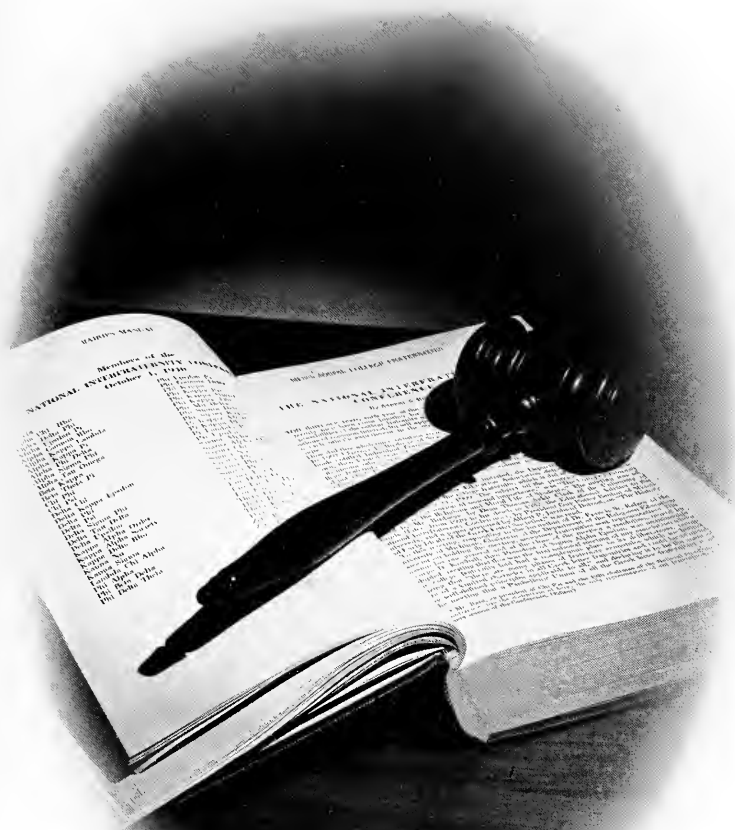

The archery shoot at the University of Connecticut, the inter-house basketball tournament, the National Telegraphic Swimming Meet, the Naiads' water-ballet, and our Sports Day with Mount Holyoke College, where hockey was the game of the day, were only some of W.A.A.'s projects. Fall featured the Freshman Pond Party held by W.A.A. in conjunction with Isogon and the Scrolls; and spring sponsored a season of co-ed volleyball—and the great Spring Play Day.

From the cozy house on Lincoln Street in which the Chi Omegas live, there emanated a parade of girls prominent in campus activities. Starting the year off right, the girls introduced their new housemother, Miss Ruth Symons, to the campus at a tea in September.

President Baker, at a Christmas party given for all the Chi O's at his home, played Santa Claus. The annual Pledge Formal was held in March at the Monson Memorial Library.

Chi Omega this year contributed to the "Ladder of Smiles" at the Shriners' Hospital in Springfield. This fund helps to provide care for underprivileged crippled children.

A year of successful achievement was topped off by Alumnae Reunion weekend held on April 26 and 27.

Cooperation, not competition, is the motto upheld by Kappa Kappa Gamma. By emphasizing Panhellenic spirit and participation in college functions, the members of Kappa strive to form sincere and lasting friendships on a universal scale. Reaching beyond the confines of the college campus, Kappa's aims materialized in such undertakings as the present Dorothy Canfield Fisher Project providing food and clothing to the children of war-torn France.

Delta Nu Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma is a well balanced organization claiming high scholarship, and key positions in extra-curricular organizations such as leaders in the University of Massachusetts campaign, three Isogon members, six "Who's Who," and a Military Ball Honorary Colonel.

The fall of 1946 found the Pi Phis proudly living in a house of their own after two years of life in the Theta Chi house. After the moving and redecorating were finished, the sorority settled down to the usual campus routine of studies, activities, and social life. Outstanding as presidents of W.A.A., Bacteriology Club, and the French Quarter, editor of the Handbook, secretary of S.C.A., three Scrolls, one Phi Kappa Phi, and one house chairman, the Pi Phis have the reputation of being the "most pinned house" on campus. The social calendar included a tea for Mrs. Doering, the new house mother, house parties, open houses, and the pledge formal.

Tops among sorority women in scholarship and extra-curricular activities, Psi chapter of Sigma Delta Tau blazed through its first year as a national sorority.

Not only could SDTs be found on many campus organizations, but leadership ability gave the sorority claim to the editorship of both the INDEX and The Quarterly, Chief Justice of WSGA, President of the Concert Association, Glee Club soloists, and membership in Scrolls and Isogon.

Renovated by brush-laden girls, Kemtone, hammers, and hard work, its new house is a good representation of the spirit of the group. Sacrifice and backache on those balmy September days brought SDT a successful year topped off by its Pledge Formal, Founder's Day Banquet, and the trip taken to initiate a new chapter at R. I. Beta Eta Chapter of Sigma Kappa set up housekeeping practically from scratch this fall after occupying the Kappa Sigma fraternity house for the two years since its installation at Massachusetts State College in April 1944.

Fond of eating, as the informal shot indicates, Sigma Kappas are perpetually promising to go on a diet—starting tomorrow; and when that tomorrow never comes, ease their consciences with a half-hearted, "I'll just take a cup of coffee, black, no sugar."

The group enjoyed an unusually active season of sorority, scholastic, and social events, highlighted by the annual spring formal held in April.

Under a hot summer's sun fifteen brothers of AEPi pitched in to recondition the house for the fall semester. With the return of the war veterans, the house continued its fine record of fellowship and achievement. Ma Bigelow's fine cooking and Pi's lavish house dances, enjoyed by brother and friend, signified the full re-activation of AEPi. Cheers were sounded

Fraternity life at Alpha Gamma Rho began when hammers and paint brushes were laid down and the house was reopened after varied wartime use, first as a sophomore girls' dorm, and later as "La Maison Francaise."

Alpha Gamma Rho placed itself in the campus limelight when Harv Jackson directed the Horticultural Show; and by President Bob Ryan's athletic prowess and election to the presidency of the Interfraternity Council.

Traditionally a snow-sculpture winner, Alpha Gam took second prize with its "Building the Future," under the direction of Walt Glista. Outstanding social events were successful vic parties and the annual Founders Day and Pledge Banquet in April.

The return of approximately fifty Kappa Sigs who were members of the pre-war classes of 1942, '43, '44, and '45, swelled the Gamma Delta chapter to more than sixty active members.

The first Kappa Sigma Embassy Ball, expected to become a Kappa Sig tradition, was the outstanding event of the year. The Ball symbolized the brotherhood embodied in the United Nations. Patricia Connolly was chosen Kappa Sigma sweetheart for the coming year, with Delight Bullock and Lorraine Guertin as her maids-of-honor.

Kappa Sigma was especially active in athletics due to such men as Ray Kneeland, Basketball Captain, and Stan Waskiewicz, Captain-elect of the football team.

This year marked the 35th Anniversary for Gamma Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha celebrated by a banquet and entertainment in March well attended by alumni. Other highlights of the year were the first post-war homecoming after the Vermont football game, and the Spring Formal.

Re-activation of the fraternity was highly successful with Lambda Chi athletes and "B.M.O.C.'s" very much in evidence in every phase of campus life.

Among more mundane but none-the-less important matters, Lambda Chi's gloried in the cooking of Mrs. Marcella Campbell, not to mention gaining her four-year-old son "Butch" as their youngest pledge. Asked why he had pledged Lambda Chi, "Butch" replied, "It's the blasé thing to do."

Alpha Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa, as a result of the hard work of members and pledges, was able to live in its fraternity house after four years of war interruption. Outstanding in all fields of campus activity, the Phi Sigs have held important positions in class leadership and athletics. Phi Sigma Kappa won the Inter-Fraternity Touch Football Championship. Alumni Weekend and successful vic parties were but a part of the fraternity's active social season. Dedication of a memorial plaque paid tribute to the memory of the members of Alpha Chapter who gave their lives in World War II.

Although having lost some of its high war-period influence and handicapped by the lack of a chapter house, SAE continued functioning this past year in normal fashion and maintained a high place in the campus spotlight. Next year Sig Alph expects to have a new house on Butterfield Terrace, and, with this as a helpful impetus, plans big things for the year 1947-48. Despite the past year's handicap, SAE gained its share of pledges and initiates, retained a good scholarship rating, took a large part in extra-curricular activities on campus, and conducted one of the outstanding campus social events with its "January Thaw" dance.

The aims of Tau Epsilon Phi are "to promote a closer friendship and a love for higher learning, to cultivate a spirit of unselfish fellowship, and to exert throughout life an influence tending to more manly character, higher idealism, and tolerance of mind and spirit inspired by universal brotherhood." Throughout the academic year it fulfilled these aims of its founders.

The Theta Chapter of Theta Chi fraternity originated as a local fellowship of sixteen men at Massachusetts Agricultural College in February 1908. This fifth fraternity on the campus, Theta Phi, became affiliated with a National Fraternity in 1911. Since then both the local chapter and the national fraternity have achieved a position of strength in the fraternity world.

Together with active participation in sports, organizations and interfraternity competition, Theta Chi maintained a good scholastic average. Socially, its many affairs culminated in the annual Bowers Ball held in April. Theta Chi aims at attaining the highest in college ideals and upholds its Alma Mater wholeheartedly.

With the return of the majority of Q.T.V. undergraduates from the Armed Forces, the active chapter again occupied its own house in October. During the war years, the activities of the fraternity had been carried on by a group of local alumni on campus and in town with only a small undergraduate nucleus.

The social chairman planned and executed a number of social events, most important of which was the revival of the annual Q.T.V. Spring Ball.

The sports manager got together strong teams to compete in the inter-fraternity touch football, basketball, and softball competitions. Other members were active on varsity teams and various extra-curricular activities as well.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is still in a process of rehabilitation after the completion of the first post-war year at Massachusetts State College. In spite of the fact that the organization was debilitated due to members being graduated and transferring, the five members left on campus decided to reactivate the chapter.

Sig Ep was able to field a team in both interfraternity football and basketball acquitting itself well in both sports. The chapter has also participated in all other interfraternity activities.

Sig Ep is looking forward to the future with confidence and expects once more to assume a position among the leaders in fraternity and campus life that it had occupied in the past.

Discarding its traditional black hats for black jackets with the Massachusetts State College seal, the Senate, for the first time since the war, governed with an unusual number. The usual 11 senators were increased to 15 by four returning members.

Because of the enlarged enrollment, the Senate was kept quite busy with campus functions, aside from its regular duties of governing "the men," supervising campus elections, and appointing heads for dance committees.

The Senate, in December, sent Les Giles, as delegate, to the Chicago Student Conference at the University of Chicago. It contributed to the W.S.S.F., bought all the magazines for the Infirmary, and gave financial aid to the Band.

Working in close association, the Senate and W.S.G.A. tried to achieve more unified student government. They, too, worked hard for a University of Massachusetts.

Members: Les Giles '47, President; Orman Glazier '47, Vice-President; Bob Butler '48, Secretary; George Bower '47, Treasurer; Ray Fuller '47, Marshal; Ray Campbell '48, Historian; Jim Falvey '47, John McDonough '47, Gil Santin '47, Dave Bush '47, Art Irzyk '47, Ray Kneeland '47 (Inactive), George Doten '48, Steve Czarnecki '48, Andy Nelson '47.

With men returning to the campus in a considerable number, W.S.G.A. found it could work together with the Senate for a more efficient student government and a concentrated campaign for a university. W.S.G.A. revived the campus tradition of carolling at Christmas and made plans to have Mother and Dad's Day brought back to the campus.

The "women governors" helped improve the recreational facilities in Mem Hall, sent a delegate to the Chicago Student Conference at Chicago University, sponsored Spring Day and the Freshman Rally, and awarded its annual W.S.G.A. Scholarship. But the big cry on campus that finds one voice in W.S.G.A. was, "Back the University of Massachusetts!"

Chadbourne and Greenough Halls, New Alumni Dormitories

Built by the Alumni Association Building Incorporated, two new men's dormitories were opened on Butterfield Hill. The dorms were named for Paul Ansel Chadbourne, president of the College from 1882 to 1883, and James Carruthers Greenough, president from 1883 to 1886. Chadbourne and Greenough Halls hold 292 students, with a dining hall in Greenough Hall to accommodate students from both dorms. The buildings were designed by Bud Ross, Class of 1917, in units so as to allow for expansion.

Looking down "Maternity Row"

The return of the veteran, in overwhelming numbers, brought about an acute housing shortage which necessitated the establishment of two temporary housing projects — Federal Circle and Commonwealth Circle.

Federal Circle, for married veterans and their families, provided unexpected comfort and convenience for ninety-four young families, some of whom were undertaking their first house-keeping experience.

Affectionately labeled "Maternity Row," Federal Circle soon became the scene of baby carriages, bridge clubs, and "over the fence gossip." The homey atmosphere of the unit was excelled only by the community spirit.

Commonwealth Circle, on the other hand, was the housing nucleus of bachelor veterans. Soon after the boys established themselves in "the barracks," they realized that their convenient location on the sprawling campus, and the adequate facilities provided them compensated for the luxury of Butterfield House.

College tradition was shattered when Butterfield Dormitory was taken over by men, as the first step toward a men's quadrangle on the hill, while the "freshmen Buttercups" returned to the "Abbey," and upperclass girls took over Lewis and Thatcher Halls.

MILITARY LIFE AT M. S. C.

In order to benefit from the lessons learned in winning World War II, a post war R.O.T.C. program was underway, headed by an entire new staff. The aim of the program was to produce junior officers with qualities and attributes essential to their progressive and continued development as officers in the United States Army.

In keeping with the new program, an advanced Armored Cavalry and Air Force Unit was activated. The R.O.T.C. Rifle Team was reorganized in the Fall and competed in the New England College Rifle League and the First Army Area matches for the William Randolph Hearst Trophy. A Pistol Team and a Girls' Rifle Team were also instituted, each competing in Intercollegiate Matches.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW

Below is a general view of the 1946 Horticulture Show, held November 1, 2, and 3, in the cage of the Curry S. Hicks Physical Education Building. Some 15,000 visitors viewed this 34th annual exhibition, the first to be arranged since the war. It was a great show and a center of particular interest for the Alumni Homecoming crowd. Professor Clark L. Thayer '13 and Professor Lyle Blundell were faculty co-chairmen in charge. Harvey Jackson '48 was student chairman.

Winter Carnival this year was nothing short of terrific! In true pre-war style, the Carnival began on Thursday night with the Glee Clubs' presentation of "Snowman's Frolic," assisted by the Band.

guests, the carnival continued with the ball on Friday night, with Wendell Bradway's Orchestra. The selection of Barbara Broderick as Queen, and her court, was the highlight of the evening. Warm weather cancelled the sports events, but the high spirits continued through dinner at Wiggins and the Lord

Jeff, the movies, walks through campus, and a victorious basketball game with Hamilton College. Later in the evening, house dances on campus kept alive the Carnival spirit, until Sunday, tired but happy, the guests departed from their genial host, Massachusetts State College.

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE FUTURE

In the fall of 1946 a great hum of activity permeated the entire campus. On everyone's lips were the words "University of Massachusetts." Pamphlets and posters were set up and circulated at all vantage points. This activity, carried on in the main by WSGA and Senate, culminated in a hearing on December 9, before the Committee on Education, concerning the need for a University of Massachusetts at Amherst. A rousing rally, held on the steps of Stockbridge, December 6, raised student interest to the fighting point, and funds were collected to cover the cost of hiring buses which would carry a representative group of students and faculty to the Boston hearing.

The inception of a University of Massachusetts at Amherst dates as far back as 1930, when Mass. Aggie, in transition to Mass. State College, brought up the idea of becoming a U. of M., but reserved it for the future. Constant rumblings, through the 1930's, given force by the Alumni, the Collegian, and the INDEX, kept alive the desire for a university here. A University of Massachusetts Committee, organized by the Alumni in 1941, seemed about to bring matters to a head, but the advent of the war with all its confusion interrupted these activities which then lay dormant through the war years. 1945 saw the renewal of this drive with the appointment by the General Court of a special commission, headed by Senator Ralph Mahar, to study higher education in Massachusetts. Later, a sub-committee was chosen, with President Baker as Chairman, to study and report on a University of Massachusetts. The impetus for this action was provided by the many bills calling for a University of Massachusetts which were being introduced to the Legislature.

Meanwhile, student interest was being promoted on campus and the Collegian had again entered the fray and had as its platform a University of Massachusetts at Amherst! Then the students really took over! In the summer of 1946 a committee of two, Barbara Robinson and Georgia Perkins, took it upon themselves to call upon Senator Gray of Springfield to discuss matters in regard to a University of Massachusetts and were advised on immediate student action, which broke out in full force in the fall.

Almost simultaneously with the hearing, the University of Massachusetts Committee was formed and recognized by the faculty and student governments with Mike Donohue as the Head of the important Steering Committee which included the following hard working members: Irv Robbins, Hal Leen, Barb Robinson, Georgia Perkins, Mary O'Reiley, Peg Parsons, Les Giles, and Gordie Smith; Berna Carroll as chairman of Legislative Action Committee; Ed Drewniak, Publicity; Alec Campbell, Fund Raising; Bucky Davis, Faculty and Alumni; Brad Morton, Research; Vic Morgan, Boosters; Fred Rothery, Treasurer; and Polly Piper, Secretary.

December 10, the campus was visited by the Ways and Means Committee who were favorably impressed. On December 18, Senator Mahar of Orange, at the request of the committee, came to State, and after some persuasion, agreed to write up and to introduce Bill 207 to the Legislature. Even throughout Christmas vacation, the fight progressed. Students, urged on by the Committee, wrote to their legislators expressing their views on the need for a University of Massachusetts here at Amherst, and asking for assistance and cooperation in achieving their goal.

Early in January, Bill 207, calling for the change of the name Massachusetts State College to the University of Massachusetts, and signed by the Committee, Alumni, and Trustees, was introduced in the State Legislature and another hearing was scheduled for March 10, when all bills pertaining to a University of Massachusetts would be discussed and considered.

February 6 the campus broke out in a rash of red tags which read "Get out in front and back the University of Massachusetts." The day was termed "Tag Day" by the Committee and a slight fee was collected for the tags which was to be used to meet the expenses of the Committee. To keep up with the trend, the theme of Winter Carnival and its accompanying snow sculptures was the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. At a regional Conference on February 15 and 16 of the National Student Organization, our representative being Georgia Perkins, other leading colleges of New England declared their willingness to support our cause. On Feb. 19, Berna Carroll, Brad Morton, Peg Parsons, Polly Piper, Ed Drewniak, and Mike Donohue journeyed to Massachusetts State College at Devens in order to enlighten the students there of our progress and to stir up interest.

As the INDEX goes to press, a University of Massachusetts Day, March 6, is being planned to arouse further interest and inform students of the latest developments and importance of the March 10 hearing. In contemplation for the coming decisive months are more rallies and "Convos" sponsored by the University of Massachusetts Committee.

Throughout all, the Collegian has done a worthy job in supplying information to students, promoting interest here and throughout Massachusetts for a University, and supporting the University of Massachusetts Committee.

This is our fight—a student fight for a

Seniors—to some the four years have sped away much too swiftly; to others, the former members of the classes of 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, and 1946, back from the battlefields and now being graduated with the class of 1947, commencement brings a sigh of relief—But “Over us all is something.” — the memories of our beautiful campus and of our active senior year. The class of 1947 proved itself to have an amazing amount of leadership ability and talent in its ranks. The B.M.O.C.’s and the B.W.

O.C.’s, veterans and original ’47ers alike, have left their mark in a year of action at Massachusetts State College. The senior class can now repeat the words of Archibald MacLeish: “We have learned all the answers—All the answers; it is the question we do not know.”

Class Officers were: Gordon Smith, President; Milton Bass, Vice-President; Barbara Brown, Secretary; William Clark, Treasurer; David Bush, Captain; and Arthur Irzyk, Sergeant-at-Arms.

ADELPHIA

The war disrobed Adelphians of their traditional maroon coats, but the prestige of the honorary society has been kept intact despite the ravages of all-out war on the male enrollment. This self-perpetuating organization has retained an unbroken precedent aiming at the "promotion of good fellowship and the fostering of the highest ideals on campus." In the past year Adelpia conducted a drive for the War Memorial Fund and directed the Campus Varieties. Other activities include ushering the graduates through commencement exercises and keeping them in touch with college affairs after they leave campus.

ISOOGON

Leadership, scholarship, versatility, and character—all these can be found in the members of the Senior Women's Greek Letter Society—Isogon. Since its creation in 1939, Isogon has assumed and performed activities as many and varied as the talents of its members. Nothing—from organizing U.S.O. activities during the war to sponsoring dances in conjunction with Adelphia, the Senior Men's Honor Society; from publishing Co-Ediquette, a freshman handbook, to creating the Scrolls, a Sophomore Honor Society—is beyond the abilities of Isogon. During the Junior-Senior Processional—also established by Isogon—those juniors selected for the services they have rendered the school are tapped according to tradition, and for the following year, they may wear the white flannel jacket with the maroon seal—the symbol of Isogon.

Bulcock, Skahill
Rooney, O'Rourke

Freshman year—the “green year” of impressions. Revealed to them in a maze of activities were the beauty of the campus, the proud upperclassmen, fraternity rushing, professors, grinding, socializing, and learning so many State traditions. The year molded each freshman into a part of this world of our own. From the amazement of Dr. Torrey’s “ontogeny recapitulates phylogeny” to complaining about the food at Draper Hall, this was a real freshman class at Massachusetts State College, even if the age norm was raised by the influx of veterans. An outstanding accomplishment for the class was winning the Rope Pull, thus humbling their Sophomore superiors. Patrick Rooney, President; Patricia O'Rourke, Vice-President; Betty Jane Skahill, Secretary; Robert Bulcock, Treasurer; Robert Dolan, Sergeant-at-Arms.

SCRAPS FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

A Year's Accumulation of Pictures

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The noise and confusion coming from the INDEX office in the northwest corner of the Memorial Building was proof of the year-long work of the 1947 INDEX Board. The student body cannot know of the work of those unidentified people who have given so much time and even more aid to help solve the problems of publishing a yearbook during this year of transition, a yearbook that will be worthy of the University of the Future. Therefore, the Editor wishes to make public the thanks of the INDEX Board to:

Professor Lawrence S. Dickinson, literally the INDEX godfather, for combining with his job as Business Advisor a personal interest and spirit which gave the Board the courage to face all problems.

Mr. Charles N. DuBois, who in his first year as Editorial Advisor to the INDEX, checked the literature, guided and advised the Board while "learning the ropes."

Mr. George "Red" Emery, Executive Secretary of the Associate Alumni, for assistance all the way from information on the work of the Associate Alumni to carrying in large bundles of galley proofs to the INDEX office for the five-foot Editor.

Professor Frank Prentice Rand, for his June letter filled with helpful suggestions, and for his continued interest.

Mr. John Cole of the Andover Press, for editorial assistance, helping us meet deadlines, and assuring the INDEX the best in printing which the yearbook experience of the Andover Press produces.

Mr. Apriar Saunders of the Greylock Engraving Co., for combining hard work, a pleasing personality, and the best in engraving technique to help us carry out the theme of the book.

Mr. Irving P. Green and Miss Patricia Ray of Sargent Studio, for being at the Editor's beck and call for any kind of photographic assistance; and to Pat for inestimable aid in helping the Editor with designing the theme of the book.

Mr. Michael Dasho of Sargent Studio, for his patience in photographing over 250 hard to please seniors, and all campus organizations.

Mr. Arthur Musgrave and Joe Bornstein, for their contributions.

Dr. Maxwell Goldberg, though his work necessitated his relinquishing the advisorship of the INDEX, for his continued interest.

Dean William L. Maehmer, author of the dedication.

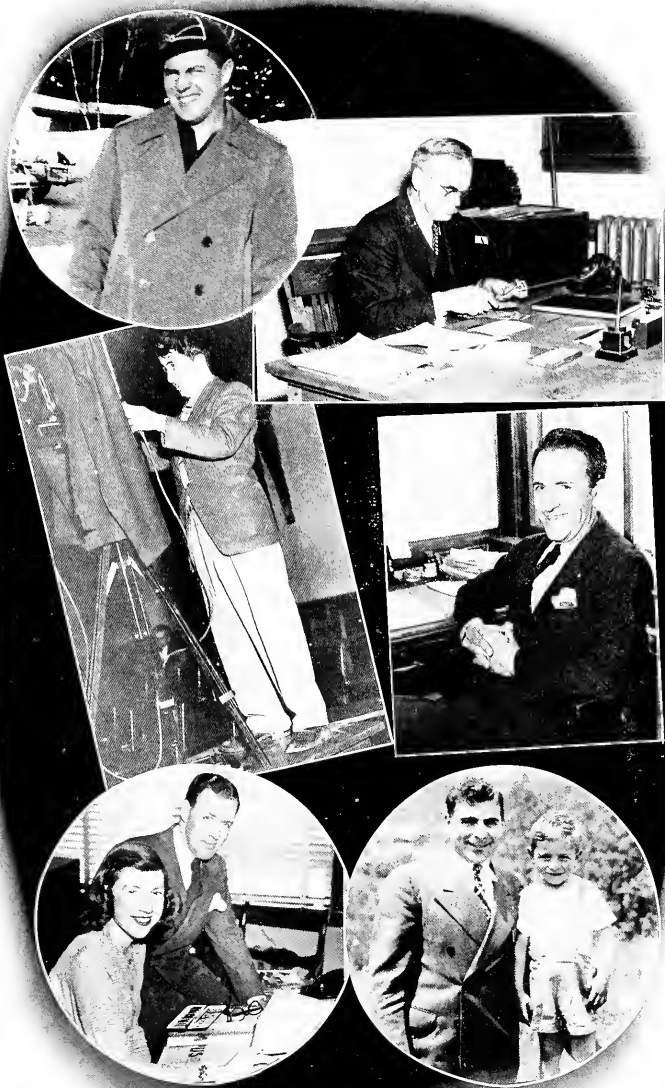

Parents of the Former Members of the Class of 1947, for their cooperation in helping us compile the former classmates section of the yearbook.

Our Advertisers.

Friends and INDEX competitors who, whether they worked or just listened to the Editor live INDEX, for contributing toward producing the 1947 INDEX, the Yearbook which looks forward to a University of the Future.
